Education System in Kazakhstan

Secondary education is compulsory in our country. Citizens of Kazakhstan have the right for education which is guaranteed by the Constitution. Nowadays thousands of young people enter universities and colleges.

After finishing secondary school some people can continue their studies in order to get higher education. All applicants must take competitive examinations.

Higher educational establishments are headed by rectors. Vice-rectors are in charge of the academic and scientific process. The faculties are headed by deans. There are chairs (departments) within faculties. Many students get stipendiums and have hostel accommodations. At the end of each term they have vacations.

Most of higher educational establishments in Kazakhstan have transferred to a three-staged system. Students study four years to get a Bachelor's Degree and two years to get a Master's Degree. Besides they can continue their study to get the degree of Ph. D.
